

KING'S CONDITION IS SERIOUS

Chances for Recovery of England's Monarch Are Said This Evening to be Very Remote.

CORONATION IS INDEFINITELY POSTPONED

English Ruler at Noon Today Submitted to an Operation for Perityphlitis.

Extreme Excitement and Profound Sorrow in the British Capital Today Over the Unexpected Announcement of the King's Condition—Official Bulletins Issued During the Day.

LONDON, June 24.—On the eve of the proudest day of his life King Edward has been forced to undergo an operation which while not necessarily fatal, is yet serious to a stout or elderly person, and the King is both.

His Majesty is suffering from perityphlitis, an old name for a form of appendicitis. The operation was performed at noon today, and while it is announced that the result was satisfactory, the final outcome will not be known for 48 hours to come, as the crisis will not occur until that time.

As a result of the operation the coronation ceremony, which was scheduled for Thursday, has been indefinitely postponed and it is questionable whether it will ever occur. If the King improves it will take at least six weeks before he can recover sufficiently to undergo the strain.

Condition is Now Very Grave.

LONDON, June 24.—(5 p. m.)—Your correspondent learns on very high authority that King Edward is in an extremely critical condition. The operation was postponed longer than it should have been in the hope that King Edward would be able to go through the coronation. The chances for his majesty's recovery, according to your correspondent's authority, are very remote. The worst may happen in the early hours of the morning. The doctors have requested his majesty's family to remain in the palace all night.

LONDON, June 24.—(Bulletin.)—The coronation has been indefinitely postponed. It will be weeks before King Edward will be fit for the exercises attending the coronation.

LONDON, June 24.—(Bulletin.)—An official at the Mansion House this afternoon said that the King is in a very critical condition. Forty-eight hours, he said, would decide whether it is life or death.

LONDON, June 24.—The Bishop of London says the operation on the King is for strangulated hernia. The operation was performed at Buckingham palace at noon.

Illness is Dangerous.

LONDON, June 24.—King Edward has perityphlitis and a surgical operation was necessary today. The disease is the ulceration of the typhoid form of the intestinal tract and is dangerous. The announcement of his majesty's illness was contained in an official message signed by his physicians. After stating the nature of the King's disease the message read: "The King's condition on Saturday was so satisfactory that it was hoped that with care his majesty would be able to go through the coronation ceremonies. On Monday evening recrudescence became manifest, rendering the surgical operation necessary today."

The Coronation Postponed.

LONDON, June 24.—News that something was wrong with King Edward spread at first as a rumor on the stock exchange today about noon. It then ran like wildfire through the city. Half an hour later, confirmation came in the form of an official bulletin which the King's private secretary, Sir Francis Knollys issued from Buckingham palace. Lord Chamberlain personally took the message to the Lord Mayor who has it posted on the Mansion House. The official announcement is made that the coronation is postponed.

London is Staggered.

LONDON, June 24.—Great crowds struggled about the bulletin boards and received the news with heads uncovered. London is staggered by the suddenness of it all, particularly as absolute denial that the King was seriously ill was issued on Saturday by Sir Francis Knollys.

Conditions Favorable This Afternoon.

LONDON, June 24.—The King was reported at 4 o'clock this afternoon to be still improving. Further bulletins during the day have been arranged. These will be issued at 6:30 and 11 o'clock this evening. If any unexpected or grave developments occur further announcement will be made. These bulletins will be issued at Buckingham palace, Marlborough house and York house. These places are surrounded by immense crowds. Workmen are now dismantling the front of Marlborough House.

Alarm Felt in England.

LONDON, June 24.—There is alarm throughout England over the condition of the King whose coronation has just been postponed owing to his illness. King Edward, who was brought back from Windsor castle yesterday to Buckingham palace with a large staff of doctors and nurses, was operated upon this noon.

When the King returned yesterday he was scarcely able to walk and his face showed the great suffering he was undergoing.

Last night when there were rumors about his illness it was said that he was suffering from the reappearance of his old malady in the shape of a growth in his throat, but the official bulletins today show that it is not the King's throat that is giving anxiety. The King realizes his own danger.

Up to today the truth regarding his condition has been carefully withheld from the public. The English papers have said little about the King's condition and up to today all possible efforts were made to prevent its reaching the people, either of England or other countries.

London Celebrations Postponed.

LONDON, July 24.—Following the official announcement issued from Buckingham palace, Earl Marshall has received the King's commands to express his majesty's deep sorrow, that owing to his serious illness the coronation ceremony must be postponed. All the celebrations in London will in consequence be likewise postponed, but it is the King's earnest hope that the celebration in the country will be held as already arranged. The King has expressed the desire that the Lord Mayor see that the coronation dinner to London's poor is not postponed on account of his majesty's illness.

Operation Successful.

LONDON, June 24.—The operation on King Edward is over. It was successful. The King regained consciousness and is now asleep.

IN LONDON

Business is Practically Suspended—Consternation is Depicted Upon Every Face.

LONDON, June 24.—Business throughout London is practically suspended. The home secretary has regretfully notified the Lord Mayor of the "indefinite postponement of the coronation."

In the streets consternation is depicted in every face. Strangers and Londoners alike are grouped excitedly discussing the bad news. Papers are selling at any price, the newsboys being almost mobbed.

The first intimation that his majesty was ill came from Ascot about a week ago, when it was announced that the King was indisposed as a result of the exposure he had undergone incident to the many social duties which had developed upon him.

The sensation caused by the announcement cannot be exaggerated. About Westminster Abbey, the streets are massed by people, many of them white faced in their anxiety.

Considerable hard feeling is manifested against owners of seats for the procession who sold out their last seats this morning before the news became known. The buyers are disgusted as they have tried in vain to get their money back.

STANDS TAKEN DOWN.

Long A, June 24.—The Lord Mayor has ordered the stands in front of the Mansion house, erected for the coronation procession, to be torn down. There are many in the city who believe that the coronation will never take place.

DISEASE

From Which King Edward is Suffering is Another Name for Appendicitis—Serious Disorder.

New York, June 24.—Eminent physicians and surgeons here say that perityphlitis from which King Edward is suffering, is the old name for appendicitis. The disease was called that before the disease of the appendix was well understood. Dr. Isaac N. Love, editor of the Medical Mirror, said: "It is that form of appendicitis in which the tissues surrounding the appendix are inflamed rather than the appendix itself."

"I would rather have the disease in America than in England. Our surgeons understand it better and are more successful in treatment."

"Even if all goes well, the King will not be in condition for the coronation for at least a month after the operation and any complication would delay it indefinitely."

The disease is inflammation of the tissues surrounding the caecum or blind pouch situated between the large and small intestines. Other physicians express similar opinions.

KING'S PORTRAIT FELL.

Liverpool, Eng., June 24.—The Post says that a portrait of the King fell from the wall of Windsor castle during the past week. The incident, the paper says, has caused much superstitious discussion in West End drawing rooms.

CABINET MEETING TONIGHT.

London, June 24.—A cabinet meeting has been called for 6 o'clock tonight.

ENORMOUS SUMS

The Insurance Companies of England Would Lose Should King Edward's Illness Prove Fatal.

London, June 24.—Thousands of insurance policies on the life of King Edward have been issued during the past year.

Leading insurance men and others who depended on his living for their prosperity, were the first to take out these policies, but recently the practice has extended to men about town, gamblers and others who take delight in taking a risk. It is estimated that there are thousands who are now gambling on the life of their ruler. The insurance companies began raising rates when they found they were assuming enormous risks. The rate at first was three per cent, but it was raised to 10 per cent within a few days. King Edward is 62 years old and life insurance experts figured that he had an expectation of 12 to 14 years of life. As most of the insurance policies were for a short time designed to cover only the period until after the coronation, the insurance companies figured it was a good risk. The sudden serious illness of the King has given them a fright. The companies will lose enormous sums should the King die.

AN OFFICIAL BULLETIN.

London, June 24.—The following official bulletin was issued from Buckingham palace at 2 p. m.:

"The operation was successfully performed. A large abscess was evacuated. The King bore the operation well and is in a satisfactory condition. (Signed.)

TREVES, SMITH, LARKIN, and BARLOW."

MR. BALFOUR TALKS.

London, June 24.—(Bulletin.)—In the House of Commons this afternoon government leader Arthur Balfour said the operation had been performed. He added:

"Everything is going on with the King as well as possible, but his condition is undoubtedly serious and grave. I do not intend to increase the public alarm by adjourning the House."

CAUSED SLUMP IN PRICES.

London, June 24.—The news of the serious character of King Edward's illness caused a general slump in the prices of securities all around. Business, however, is almost at a standstill, as many members of the stock exchange had gone to the country for a holiday during coronation week. American securities fell off from one-eighth to one-fourth.

PRESIDENT NOTIFIED.

Washington, June 24.—Ambassador Choate cabled to the state department from London this morning a confirmation of the press reports of King Edward's serious illness and the consequent indefinite postponement of the coronation.

The department notified the President and a reply was sent instructing Mr. Choate to express to the British government the hope of this government for His Majesty's speedy recovery.

WHITEBLAW REID

Was to Have Been Seated With England's King at the State Dinner This Evening.

London, June 24.—Waitelaw Reid yesterday afternoon made a round of official calls at the embassies in a royal carriage, accompanied by Lieutenant Colonel Sir Fleetwood Edwards, the extra equerry of his majesty, who is in special attendance on Mr. Reid. Today all the members of the American special embassy were to have been present at a big reception of the special ambassadors at Buckingham palace.

Tonight was to have taken place the state dinner in the ball room of Buckingham palace, to which all the coronation guests had been invited. The ball room had been elaborately decorated. There was a large table for the king and the chief envoys at the end of the hall and 15 smaller tables for the other guests. Mr. Reid was to have been seated at the King's table, where the princess of the Austrias (Princess Charles of Bourbon-Sicily, eldest sister of the King of Spain) was to have had the place of honor on the sovereign's right. Princess Henry of Prussia was to have been seated on his majesty's left. Mr. Reid was to have been placed between the Earl of Pembroke, lord steward of his majesty's household, and the maharajah of Gwalior, the most prominent of the visiting Indian princes. Mrs. Reid was to have been seated at one of the smaller tables, between Prince George of Greece who is an old friend, and Admiral Gervais, head of the French special embassy.

LOVE OF WOMAN

Caused Capture of Detective Norbeck, Who Tried to Telephone to Carrie Emerson.

Minneapolis, June 24.—Infatuation for a woman has led to the capture of City Detective Christopher C. Norbeck, whose disappearance last week caused the suspension of his trial for bribe taking. Norbeck's bondsmen had offered $1,000 reward for his apprehension. The fugitive stepped into the long distance telephone booth at Carver, 25 miles from here, yesterday afternoon, and sought to communicate with Carrie Emerson, the woman now in jail charged with aiding him in his flight from justice. Norbeck was evidently ignorant of her imprisonment.

The telephone operator detained the fugitive and sent a message to the sheriff. The arrest followed. The prisoner was transferred to the County Jail at Chaska, and County Attorney Smith hastened there last evening with a number of officers. To Mr. Smith Norbeck promised that he would make a full confession, disclosing the entire system of police corruption in connection with which he was indicted.

Irwin A. Gardner the former special officer, sentenced to six years' imprisonment for bribe taking, was secretly removed to the penitentiary at Stillwater.

Mayor A. A. Ames was arraigned under the indictment charging him with having offered a bribe to an administrative officer. He furnished bond in the sum of $5,000.

INSANE

Miss Jane Toppan, The Nurse Is Adjudged.

SUDDEN ENDING OF THE MURDER TRIAL IN MASSACHUSETTS.

ORDERED TO ASYLUM FOR LIFE.

Woman Charged With Taking Lives of a Number of People Whom She Nursed.

Boston, June 24.—(Bulletin.)—Jane Toppan, who will be tomorrow taken to the Taunton insane hospital to pass the remainder of her life, has confessed to her senior counsel, Judge Fred M. Bixby, that she has murdered thirty-one persons. Some she killed with morphine, others with poisons, she cannot remember, she says, and in many cases the dates of the deaths have gone from her mind.

Barnstable, Mass., June 24.—The trial of Miss Jane Toppan, the nurse, which was begun yesterday, came to an unexpected close after six hours session when the defendant was found "not guilty by reason of insanity" of the murder by poisoning of Mrs. Mary D. Gibbs, of Cataumet, on August 12, 1901. When the government presented its evidence the sensational incident appeared in the testimony of Dr. Henry H. Steadman, of Boston, an alienist, who said that Jane Toppan told him in the presence of other medical experts that she had caused the death of Mrs. Gibbs by giving her a poisonous dose of atropine and morphine.

When the defense put its medical experts on the witness stand the contention of moral and mental irresponsibility of the defendant was maintained. Miss Toppan was ordered committed to Taunton Insane Asylum for life.

While Miss Toppan was tried on the indictment charging the murder of Mrs. Gibbs she was charged by the government with the deaths of Mr. Alden P. Davis and Mrs. G. D. Gordon at Cataumet. These deaths occurred within a short time of each other. In addition, the deaths of the following persons, who were nursed by Miss Toppan, had been inquired into: Israel B. Dunham, of Cambridge, died May 26, 1895, aged 86 years. Mrs. Dunham, his wife, died September 15, 1897.

Miss Conours died at Cambridge in 1890.

Mrs. Alden A. Davis died at Cambridge July 4, 1901, aged 62 years.

Mrs. O. M. Brigham, of Lowell, died August 29, 1899, aged 69 years.

Florence N. Calkins, housekeeper for Mrs. Brigham, died January 15, 1900.

Mrs. Edna Baister, of Tunbridge, sister of Mrs. Brigham, died August 27, 1901.

WILL CONNECT ISLANDS BY WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY.

Chicago, June 24.—John D. Spreckles the multi-millionaire, who controls a great share of the industries of the Hawaiian islands, is contemplating connecting the islands by wireless telegraph with San Francisco, according to The Chronicle's Los Angeles correspondent. Experts in his employ are installing a system between Los Angeles and Cataline island, 40 miles out in the Pacific ocean. If the work here is entirely satisfactory Mr. Spreckles will at once begin figuring on the Hawaiian system.

Mr. Spreckles is owner of the Oceanic Steamship company, whose four vessels, the Australia, Alameda, Ventura and Hades, ply between the islands and San Francisco. These also will be fitted up with the wireless apparatus regulated to the instruments placed at San Francisco and Honolulu.

In the battle between the Republican party and the Sugar Trusts thus far the Trusts have had everything their own way. Against the advice of McKinley, the adjuration of Roosevelt, the pledges of the party platform, the good faith of the Government and the dictate of humane consideration for a suffering and dependent people the Trusts bar the way to any modification of the tariff rates that would serve to diminish their unjust profits. It is the triumph of banded greed over right and justice. The tariff monsters we have created turn upon the nation and hold it by the throat.

CANNOT BLIND THE PEOPLE.

(Pittsburg Post.)
The efforts of the Roosevelt administration to make the voters believe it is in earnest in its pretense of prosecuting the meat trusts are bound to fail. The people are not so blind that they cannot see through the sham. As ex-Senator Hill puts it: "Acting upon the assumption that the trusts should be prosecuted by their friends and not by their enemies, the National administration was at last constrained to institute some civil suits to test the efficacy of the Sherman act. What has been the net result? A few temporary injunctions have been obtained with the tacit consent of the trusts themselves, or at least with little or no opposition, which in general terms restrain the trusts from violating the Sherman act—which they expressly deny they have violated or are now violating."

No criminal prosecutions have been instituted, the robbers have not been indicted for grand larceny, no prison doors have been set ajar for the entrance of the modern highwaymen and the injunctions will not be made permanent for months, if ever. With elections in a few months for congressmen in every state, and the prospect of losing control of the lower House, it is scarcely possible that the beef magnates will even be censured, forgiven and told to "go and sin no more" before November. After the votes have been cast it is hoped by the administration that the whole agitation will die out, consumers of meat will be come used to the outrageously unjust high prices, and content to suffer what they have rather than fly to what may be even worse.

If the administration had been in earnest it is not probable that a harvest time of a whole summer would be left to the beef barons, giving them time to corral all the cattle in the country that might otherwise get away from them, and putting them in a position to dictate prices for another whole year. Is that the way Attorney General Garland was used to handle such matters, when he upheld Grover Cleveland's hands? History has but one reply to that question—an emphatic "By no means!" But under Republican rule such anti-trust laws as are on the statute books are so distorted and interpreted that they not only fail to suppress those enemies of the people, but they actually furnish protection to them.

INVALIDS ARE CROWDING

The Offices of the British Medical Institute at 100 W. Main Street.

A staff of eminent physicians and surgeons from the British Medical Institute have, at the urgent solicitation of a large number of patients under their care in this country, established a permanent branch of the Institute in this city, 124 Avalon Place, first floor, (west end entrance) 100 West Main Street.

These eminent gentlemen have decided to give their services entirely free for three months (medicines excepted) to all invalids who call on them for treatment between now and July 11th. These services consist not only of consultation, examination and advice, but also of all minor surgical operations.

The object in pursuing this course is to become rapidly and personally acquainted with the sick and afflicted, and under no conditions will any charge whatever be made for any services rendered for three months to all who call before July 11th.

The doctors treat all forms of disease and deformities, and guarantee a cure in every case they undertake. At the first interview a thorough examination is made, and, if incurable, you are frankly and kindly told so; also advised against spending your money for useless treatment.

Male and female weakness, catarrh and catarrhal deafness, also varicose veins, goitre, cancer, and all diseases of the rectum, are positively cured by their new treatment.

The chief associate surgeon of the Institute is in general charge.

REUNION

Of Show Family Held on June 17 at Jersey—A Pleasant Time—Four Generations There.

Jersey, O., June 24.—On June 17 the Show family held their annual reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Arnold of Jersey, Ohio. Mrs. Arnold being a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Show. Four generations were present on this occasion, Mr. and Mrs. Show, their children, grandchildren, and one great grandchild.

The day was a perfect one, cool and pleasant. All came with well filled baskets, determined to have an enjoyable day. The forenoon was spent in pleasant greetings and conversation. At noon the dinner was spread in the shade on the lawn and all did justice to the bountiful supply spread before them. As many more might have been fed and then had some left.

Coffee and lemonade was served by the hostess. After dinner was over the guests repaired to the parlor and vocal and instrumental music was rendered. Then the hostess announced that each one present was expected to deliver a recitation. Now this was unexpected to the guests and all began to say they were not prepared—but returning to our school days we could say "Make me a child again, just for today," so long forgotten recitations were called back to memory and recited which were very amusing and much enjoyed by all.

The last speaker was Mrs. Arnold. She recited a long and amusing recitation which received much applause.

After the speaking was over cake and ice cream were served. Then the time came for separation, the saddest part of the day.

On invitation it was decided to hold the next reunion in June, 1903, at the pleasant country home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Miller, near Alexandria, O., Mrs. Miller being a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Show.

THE CORONATION CHAIR

[Copyright, 1902, by H. Musk.]

COMPLETE transformation of the interior of Westminster Abbey was found necessary for the ceremony of crowning King Edward VII. and Queen Alexandra. In fact, the venerable and historic sanctuary was to be made recognizable. The south side of the choir was flanked by the royal box, and from the stage whereon the ceremony is enacted tiers of galleries mount toward the roof for the seating of noble guests.

During the coronation King Edward and Queen Alexandra will sit in two chairs in front of the royal box, with officers of state on either side. The ceremony of anointing and crowning King Edward, however, takes place while he is seated in St. Edward's chair, directly in front of the altar. From the time of St. Edward, or Edward the Confessor, to Queen Victoria the monarchs of England have been crowned in Westminster Abbey, and many of them are buried there. Edward the Confessor is honored by a chapel containing a shrine to his memory. Queen Elizabeth and Mary Stuart have monuments.

In the south transept of the Abbey there are monuments to most of the famous poets of England, and elsewhere in the aisles are memorials to Englishmen illustrious in various fields. Officially the Abbey is known as the Collegiate Church of Westminster and is governed by a dean.

The ancient chair used for the crowning of King Edward VII. has stood in the chapel of Edward the Confessor, called also the Chapel of the Kings, for over six centuries. Originally used in Scotland for the coronation of Scottish kings, it was brought as an offering at the shrine of Edward the Confessor in 1297. Since that time it has been designated as St. Edward's chair.

In height the coronation chair of England is 6 feet 7 inches. At the seat it is 3 feet 8 inches broad and in depth 2 feet. At the corners four lions support the structure, leaving a space of about nine inches between the seat and the bottom board. Within the space between the bottom board and seat is inclosed the famous Stone of Scone, so called.

No end of legends have grown up around the coronation chair and the stone. The stone was brought from Scotland with the chair. One tradition has it that the stone originally came from Ireland, where it was known as the Liasfall, or Stone of Destiny. It was used at the Irish national coronation seat from the seventh century B. C. It was supposed by the people of Ireland to be the very stone upon which Jacob rested his head during his vigil at Bethel. One legend is to the effect that when the rightful monarch takes his seat upon the stone it emits a loud musical note. Among other names the stone has been called Jacob's Stone and the Fatal Marble Stone.

The use of the stone in coronation ceremonies is traced to the primitive practice of raising Gothic and Celtic kings to an elevated seat of natural stone at the time of the crowning. Anglo-Saxon monarchs were crowned at Kingston-on-Thames on the King's

And Westminster Abbey

Stone, and even at Westminster hall from a very early date the king was lifted to a marble seat at the upper end of the hall, then known as the King's Bench.

In a work on "Memorials of Westminster Abbey" the venerable Dean Stanley states that the stone of the coronation chair is very probably the stone upon which King Edward rested and on which his dying head was laid in the abbey of Iona. "If so, it belongs," says the dean, "to the minister of the last authentic coronation of Christendom, the coronation of Aidan by Columba, A. D. 571."

Edward I. was crowned upon the same at Scone when he became king of the Scots. He brought it to England, and Dean Stanley declares had the chair made to house it, thus "the fragment of the world old Celtic race was imbedded in the new Plantagenet oak."

Only once since the coronation chair and stone were deposited in the chapel of Edward the Confessor have they been removed. That was at the ceremony of installing Cromwell as lord protector in Westminster hall. At the joint coronation of William of Orange and Queen Mary II. a second coronation chair was made, like the first, with the exception of the supporting lions and the stone. This has since been used for the crowning of the consort of the new sovereign Queen Alexandra, however, will not receive the crown in the chair, but kneeling upon the steps of the altar.

Westminster Abbey was founded in the eleventh century by Edward I. and the English people count it most fortunate that after a lapse of eight centuries a monarch of the same name and lineage should receive the homage of the nation and be crowned king in that historic pile. No similar succession of events as the crowning of a line of kings of over 800 years at the same altar is recorded of any other building in the world. The Abbey is officially designated in the proclamations of coronation as "Our Palace of Westminster." The houses of parliament are also called the "Palace of Westminster," and the Abbey is, with relation to its connection with the palace, the Church of St. Peter.

The terms of the royal proclamation therefore designate the Abbey as the central point of the palace, or the "holy of holies."

At the coronation service the royal procession enters the Abbey by the west doors. Along the center aisle the king's and queen's processions, move upon a raised platform to the so called "throne," or stage, where the principal parts of the ceremony are enacted. The platform is carpeted. Along the sides, on the pavement of the aisle, stand the military. The coronation chairs stand in a large free space in the center of the stage. On one hand is the royal box for the members of the reigning family. Opposite the royal box is that of the bishops and above that the gallery, or box, for foreign ambassadors and special envoys. When all are in their places, the interior of the Abbey presents a brilliant array of colors—scarlet, purple and gold in velvet, silk and ermine.

CORONATION CHAIR IN WESTMINSTER ABBEY.

KING EDWARD ...AND HIS... CORONATION

[Copyright, 1902, by W. L. Vail.]

SINCE the last coronation of a sovereign of England, sixty-four years ago, manners and tastes have undergone a wonderful change. While none of the essential features of the actual coronation ceremony can be omitted or changed, the investiture of King Edward VII. with a crown and his entourage are unlike any similar event in the annals of England. The kingdom has advanced in wealth, in art and culture, and the coronation is what may be expected under the highest civilization of the twentieth century. An event at once formal and magnificent has been the aim of the king. In the royal proclamation announcing the celebration of the coronation King Edward enjoined upon all who are to do any service in that ceremony to appear "in all respects furnished and appointed as to so great a solemnity appertaining and answerable to the dignities and places which every one of them respectively holdeth and enjoyeth, and of this they or any of them are not to fail, as they will answer the contrary at their perils."

King Edward having abandoned that part of the ceremonial which for centuries has taken place in Westminster hall, the center of interest for the day of coronation is the service in Westminster Abbey. At the moment the royal pair enter the door the choir greets them with an anthem beginning "I was glad when they said unto me, we will go into the house of the Lord." Proceeding through the body of the church, the king and queen kneel in front of the state or coronation chairs, say their private prayers and then take seats in the choir.

The first important ceremony is the so called "recognition" of Edward VII. as the lawful monarch of England, a seemingly useless performance in view of the fact that he has ruled as king more than a year. But the coronation is a ceremonial, formal, political and religious.

When all have taken their places in the Abbey, the archbishop of Canterbury makes "the recognition" of the

The hymn, "Come, Holy Ghost, Our Souls Inspire," follows; also the anthem, "Zadok the Priest." Then comes the ceremony of anointing. The sword of kingship is then delivered by the archbishop into the king's right hand, with the words, "With this sword do justice." The king returns it to the archbishop, and it is laid upon the altar, and his majesty is then invested by the dean of Westminster with the imperial mantle or dalmatic robe of cloth of gold. The orb, a ball of gold surmounted by a cross and set with jewels, the emblem of supreme power, is also placed in the king's right hand and on the fourth finger of that hand a ruby ring. The scepter with the cross is then put into his left hand. Now comes the central act of the ceremonies—namely, the crowning of the king. The crown, which has been resting on the altar, is consecrated and blessed by the archbishop and placed on his majesty's head.

"God save the king!" will then be shouted by the assembly, trumpets will sound and drums be beaten. The archbishop pronounces the exhortation, "Be strong and of good courage," and "The King Shall Rejoice in Thy Strength, O Lord!" is rendered by the choir. The crowning of the queen follows.

King Edward receives the old St. Edward's crown, enlarged at the rim to fit his head. When the king has been crowned, the princes of the blood royal and the peers put on their coronets. The bishops their caps and the kings of arms their crowns. After the king has been crowned the Bible is placed in his hand. The "Te Deum" is sung, and the king is formally enthroned.

King Edward's throne rests upon a platform covered with the richest cloth of gold and raised above the pavement the height of five steps and is directly beneath the central tower of the Abbey. At the close of the "Te Deum" he ascends the platform and is lifted up into his throne by the archbishop and bishops and other peers of the realm. The archbishop then exclaims, "Stand firm and hold fast from henceforth the seat and state of royal and imperial dignity which is delivered unto you in king four times, presenting in as many directions King Edward as the "undoubted king of the realm," each demand being greeted with loud acclamations of "God save King Edward VII." and at the last recognition trumpets sound and drums are beaten. After the litany has been said the king and queen, each kneeling before the altar, make separately their "first offering"—namely, an altar cloth of gold, and the king also an ingot of gold, one pound in weight, which the archbishop of Canterbury places in the oblation basin, the pall of gold being laid on the altar. His grace meantime says the prayer, "O God, who dwellest in the high and holy place."

The king and queen then return to their state chairs. The communion service is commenced, and the sermon by the bishop of London follows. The coronation oath is then administered to the king by the archbishop of Canterbury, which he receives kneeling before the altar and with his hand upon the holy gospels. He appends to the form of oath his royal sign manual, the name add by the authority of Almighty God."

Homage is then paid to his majesty by the archbishops and bishops, who kiss his left cheek, by the princes of the blood royal and by dukes, marquises, earls, viscounts and barons. Amid shouts of the people—"God save King Edward!" "Long live King Edward!" and the sound of trumpets and drums the king leaves his throne and descends to the altar.

The holy sacrament is then administered to the king and queen, and the archbishop reads the rest of the communion service and pronounces the blessing.

The final act of the coronation ceremony is the changing of the imperial mantle for the royal robe of purple velvet in St. Edward's chapel. Finally the king, wearing his crown and bearing the scepter and orb, passes through the choir of the Abbey to the door where he entered attended by the peers, the archbishops and bishops in full regalia.

When Electric Bitters are used to expel bilious, kidney and microbe poisons at the same time this salve exerts its matchless healing power, blood diseases, skin eruptions, ulcers and sores vanish. Buckeye Lake Deal.

Attorney J. R. Fitzgibbon for the Buckeye Lake road today sent to Gaston, Snow & Saltonstahl, of Boston, Mass., legal representatives of the Tucker & Anthony syndicate, his reports on the franchises and physical conditions of the Newark & Granville electric railroad company's properties, which are proposed to be purchased by the Buckeye Lake people.

While the deal is not yet closed yet it is now to the point that all that remains to be done is an examination of these reports, which are, it is understood to the effect that the property is a desirable acquisition, when the matter can be closed.

RAILWAY AFFAIRS.

Earning Power of the B. & O.—Western Union Loses the Pennsylvania Lines—Postal Gets 3,500 New Offices—Big Deal Concluded—Pan Handle Earnings Increase—Local Notes.

For the month of May and eleven months ending May 30, the B. & O. system made an exceptionally good showing in its earning record. The report includes the B. & O. Southwest and shows gross earnings for May of $4,405,002, an increase of $398,586; expenses, $2,959,175, an increase of $324,804; and net earnings, $1,445,827, an increase of $73,772. For the eleven months ending May 30, the gross earnings of the system show an increase of $3,606,253, expenses $1,443,422 and net earnings, $2,062,831.

New Western Railroad.

New York, June 24—David H. Moffatt, president of the First National Bank of Denver, who has been in this city for the past 60 days, has concluded successfully the financial arrangements preliminary to the building of the Denver, Northwestern and Pacific railway. Senator W. A. Clark has entered into an agreement with Mr. Moffatt by which the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake will connect at Salt Lake City with Mr. Moffatt's new road, and the Denver, Northwestern and Pacific will connect with the Rock Island and the Chicago Burlington and Quincy at Denver.

This new road it is expected by its promoters, will reduce the time between Denver and Salt Lake City by 10 hours. Work on it will be begun at once, large orders having been placed for 80 pound steel rails. Mr. Moffatt, before he left today, said:

"In addition to the $2,500,000 subscribed in the city of Denver, outside capital has been secured to build the line. We propose to issue $20,000,000 of bonds and $20,000,000 of stock. The stock will be preferred and common. Not only will the region traversed be developed, but the road will lead to a better connection with the entire north-west as far to the north as Idaho, Washington and Oregon."

Purchased by B. & O.

The B. & O. has purchased the Pittsburgh and Connellsville road, paying for it $325,000. The road which is 12 miles long, extends from Connellsville to Uniontown. The par value of the stock is $50 a share, but the B. & O. paid for it $150 a share and the back rental.

Pan Handle Figures.

The Pan Handle makes a good showing for May with an increase of $299,276 in gross and $58,259 in net earnings. The interest on bonds shows an increase of $20,369, leaving a net profit of $14,621, which is a gain of $37,390 over May, 1901. The net profit for the first five months of 1902 is $767,032, a gain of $8,732, so May has proved much better than the average month this year.

Postal and Pennsy.

Philadelphia, June 24.—The Record today says: Negotiations have been finally concluded whereby the Postal Telegraph company will secure 3,500 offices and all the lines owned by the Pennsylvania railroad now operated by the Western Union. The Postal will take possession of the offices on January 1, when the Western Union will be compelled to give up all of the trunk lines now in use which are on the property of the Pennsylvania railroad. This deal will deprive the Western Union of its chief outlets west and south, in addition to the 3,500 feeders that cost little or nothing to maintain.

The negotiations just concluded were conducted for the Postal Telegraph company by W. A. Baker, vice president and general manager of the company, and E. C. Bradley, the first vice president, who dealt directly with President Cassatt, of the Pennsylvania Railroad. The contract has been closed so far as the lines directly controlled by the Pennsylvania railroad are concerned, and other contracts have been signed for the allied lines, which will go into effect as soon as existing contracts expire. All these contracts will terminate within three or four years. As all the negotiations were conducted in New York none of the local telegraph officials knew any of the details today.

ON A WAGER

Dandy Cowboy is Riding a Bronco From Kit Carson to Indianapolis, Indiana.

St. Louis, Mo., June 24.—A young man, dressed in a smart cowboy costume, astride of a real Western bronco, arrived at the Planters' Hotel and registered as William H. Jacobs, Indianapolis. Dressed like a plains dandy, with a big leather belted straw hat, tight fitting corduroy trousers, blue flannel shirt and fancy boots, Jacobs created a great stir at dinner last evening, as he edged his way past costumes that were as rich as they were proper. Jacobs said he started from Kit Carson, Colo., for Indianapolis on a wager that his bronco could make 35 miles a day. He has followed the line of the Union Pacific and claims to be like Phineas Fogg, 24 hours ahead of time by traveling toward the sun.

HITCH

Taft and Vatican Cannot Agree Over Friar's Land—May Break Off Conference.

Washington, June 24.—A serious hitch has occurred in the negotiations between Governor Taft and the Vatican for the purchase of the church lands in the Philippines and a settlement of the church question in the islands. Secretary Root has received a cable dispatch from Governor Taft urging that final agreements be immediately sent to the pope, and that in the event of non-compliance with its terms the negotiations be broken off.

Governor Taft cabled at the same time the full text of the reply of the Vatican to the American propositions. It is very long and evades many of the questions discussed by Governor Taft. It also names conditions which are partly the cause of the present unsettled situation.

One condition demanded by the pope in return for a sale of the friars' lands is that the primary public schools in the Philippine islands be under the tutelage of the church. This will not be conceded by the American government. There are other conditions which Governor Taft considers equally objectionable. Unless they are met Governor Taft will return from Rome and return at once to Manila.

Governor Taft hoped that it would be possible to get the pope to adjust the land questions by negotiation, but it is now apparent that the Vatican hopes to secure a recognition of the church in the islands in return for concessions to be made to the American government, and it is this to which the Governor objects. Should the negotiations be broken off it will be the policy of the United States to obtain the property in question by proceedings in the Philippine courts and pay for such property as it desires by condemnation proceedings.

It becomes more and more evident that a suicide club exists here. Levstone first attempted to kill his wife by asphyxiation and leaving her for dead, drank carbolic acid.

DYNAMITE

Used to Produce Water in a Dry Well Brought the Poison Which Killed Three Brothers.

Hazelton, Ind., June 24.—News has reached here of the death of three men in Knox county, across White river, from this place. Three brothers, Ben, Joseph, and Charles Hardy, lived in a cabin. Neighbors missed them several days and went to their house to investigate. The men were on the floor unconscious.

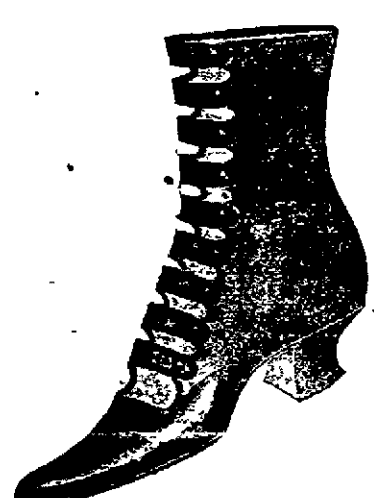

One of them lived long enough to tell the story. Back of the house is an old well. It recently went dry and the men used dynamite to get a fresh supply of water. They used the water and it made them deathly sick. All three died before medical aid could be secured.

The Hardys were among the most prominent farmers in their section. They were buried in the same grave.

Lynn, Mass., June 24.—Right Rev. James Hart, the VanBuren D. D. was consecrated bishop of Porto Rico this morning in St. Stephens memorial church where he for over ten years officiated as rector. GLASS FACTORY

For Manufacture of Bottles to Start at Columbus by Winslow Company of Marion.

(Columbus Dispatch.)

The deal for a new industry for Columbus, in the shape of a glass bottle plant, has been practically consummated by a board of trade committee, and it is expected that the transfer of 19 acres of land in the Marion tract South Columbus, just northeast of the Federal Glass plant, will be made in a few days.

The concern is the Winslow Glass company of Marion, Ind.

The company will have a weekly payroll of $3,500, and will manufacture all kinds of glass bottles. It is expected that the plant will be in operation by the first of November. The ten acre site upon which it proposes to build its plant is to be furnished. The cost of the land is $5,000. The company will locate its new plant here on account of the excellent market offered for the sale of its product. They will continue work at Marion.

HENRY THOMAS KILLED.

Washington Township Farmer Thrown From His Horse as the Animal Frightened at a Passing Train Near Utica Tuesday Morning.

Utica, O., June 24.—Henry Thomas, a well known Washington township farmer, was instantly killed about 7 o'clock this morning by being thrown from his horse.

Mr. Thomas who lived on the Fred Sperry farm north of Utica, had been in the village early in the morning on an errand, and at the hour mentioned was riding his horse to the farm north of town. The animal took fright at a passing passenger train, No. 46, south bound on the B. & O. railroad, and became unmanageable. As it kicked and plunged the horse succeeded in throwing the rider off over its head. While no autopsy has been conducted it is supposed that Mr. Thomas' neck was broken. He died instantly.

There were two witnesses to the accident, Walter Sperry, son of George Sperry in front of whose residence the mishap occurred, and the fireman on the B. & O. train who reported it upon the train's arrival at Utica.

Mr. Thomas, who was about 40 years of age, leaves a widow and a child 8 months old. At the time this dispatch is sent the arrangements for the funeral are incomplete.

OLEOMARGARINE

Housewives Can Serve the Golden Imitation of Butter by Being Their Own Decorators.

Chicago, June 24.—Hand-colored oleomargarine and every housewife her own decorator is likely to become popular after July 1.

Housewives and cooks who have feared that the 10 cents a pound tax placed by Congress on the colored article would make the price prohibitive need have no cause for alarm. They can still serve the golden imitation of the genuine country product, but they will have to color it themselves with the contents of a little capsule that is to go with each pound.

Congress decided that colored butter was ruining the dairy business of the country and therefore imposed the 10 cent tax. It also provided that if hotel men and boarding house keepers tinted the oleomargarine they used they, too, would have to pay the tax. Buttermen however found that private families could not be reached by the tax if the housewife or cook undertook the artistic finishing and coloring. Then one of the big packing firms put their chemists to work and they prepared a capsule to hold the coloring. A housewife can color oleo to suit her fancy.

ARRESTED

For Assault and Battery—Mayor Assessed a Fine and Ordered Man Locked Up.

Mike Duffy, foreman of the Bell telephone lifemen, this morning caused the arrest of a man named E. Blackstone, for assault and battery. The two men had words Monday night in the manager's office, and this morning renewed the difficulty at the supply house, in the alley between Church and Main streets, back of Doctor King's residence. Blackstone assaulted Duffy, and used him pretty roughly.

Officer Kennedy arrested Blackstone on South Second street, after a hard chase, being assisted by mail carrier Daniel Murphy. Mayor Forry fined him $3 and costs and ordered him locked up until he sobered up.

WILLIS

Tax Law Is Sustained By The Supreme Court.

COUNTY SALARY ACTS DECLARED UNCONSTITUTIONAL.

OFFICERS NOW ON SALARIES

Will All Go Back to Fee Basis—Important Decision of Supreme Court Tuesday.

Columbus, O., June 24.—The Supreme Court this morning sustained the validity of the Willis capital stock tax law affirming the Franklin county court in dismissing the injunction petition of the Southern Gum Company against Secretary of State Laylin.

Every county salary act in existence in the state was declared unconstitutional by the Supreme court today. The test came in the suit of Auditor or State Guilbert against Auditor Yates of Pickaway county. All the county officers now on salary will go back to the fee basis, taking all fees in the future. This decision means a clean profit to the auditors of Hamilton and Cuyahoga counties of $40,000 each in uncollected fees and they will hereafter draw nearly $50,000 each in fees per annum. Salary laws, where the office is supported by fees, are declared unconstitutional on the ground that persons paying the fees cannot be compelled to pay into the county funds over and above the amount necessary to support the particular office to which the fees are paid.

The Holmes county salary law is one of the acts made null and void by this decision. There was much contention over this law in that county and some of the champions of it who were alleged reformers have become in bad odor.

KEROSENE CURE

Has Supplanted the Water Cure in the Philippines, Say Men of Sixth Infantry.

San Francisco, June 24.—Returned soldiers of the Sixth Infantry among them Sergeants E. L. Mott and John W. Knox and Corporal C. R. Carlton of Company H, state that the "kerosene cure" is more effective than the "water cure," and has supplanted the latter to a great extent in the Philippines. Kerosene is applied in the same manner as water. The soldiers state that native priests were among those thus tortured. They reported that nearly all American soldiers in the islands have acquired native wives. On their departure the order is issued compelling each to make provisions for his family. This is done by buying a house, stocking it with rice and other provisions and leaving some money.

After the nuptial vows had been pronounced, and the congratulations were offered, the guests were conveyed to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gaither already prepared and furnished at 411 South Second street, and there was served a sumptuous wedding supper.

ACCUSED

By His Sister, Riley Fox Stood Off the Officers and Then Killed Himself.

Marysville, O., June 24.—A warrant was sworn out in Mayor Thornton's court at Plain City, by Miss Lovina Fox, against her brother, Riley Fox, for threatening to kill her. Constable Snodgrass and Marshal Latham started to arrest Fox. The latter heard of the warrant being sworn out, and provided himself with a shot gun, rifle and a revolver.

When the officers arrived they discovered him in the house and read the warrant to him. Fox told them he would rather die there than in the penitentiary. The Marshal and Constable were both frightened, and left. They returned later and found Fox dead, having shot himself in the head with a rifle. Coroner Jenkins was called to investigate the case. The sister is almost prostrated over the dreadful affair, and grave fears for her recovery are entertained. Fox was about forty years of age.

ON THE VERGE

[Original.]

She was the most spiritual being I ever knew, seeming to me to be always treading the sands of "that immortal sea" which the poet has made typical of another existence. I know not if the dead ever visit those on earth, but this I believe—if it is possible for a spirit to come back to any mortal it would come to the young girl who gave me this strange experience.

We had taken carriages at Richmond early in the morning to ride over the fields of the memorable seven days' battles. We began at Mechanicsville and ended at Seven Pines. It was late in the afternoon when we reached the last named field. Indeed a full moon was beginning to dispute the day with the twilight. A guide who had been with the Confederates in the fight led us on foot to the various points of interest. The field has not been disturbed since the battle. A part was then a cornfield, and nearly all had been open ground. Now a thick grove of pines, some of them seventy feet high, shields from the rays of the southern sun this resting place of those who still lie where they fell.

"There," said the guide, pointing to a protuberance in the flat soil, "lie a hundred and fifty dead in one trench. From that hole only last week I removed the few bones that were left of a soldier and buried them in the cemetery. I identified him by this, which I found among them." He showed them a small silver coin on which had been scratched "Corporal ————, 1st New York." "There is the breastwork thrown up by the Union troops the night before the battle." We mounted it and walked along its crest till we came to a small redoubt. "See," said the guide, "the ruts of the gun carriage wheels." There, true enough, were the indentations, faint, but easily distinguished.

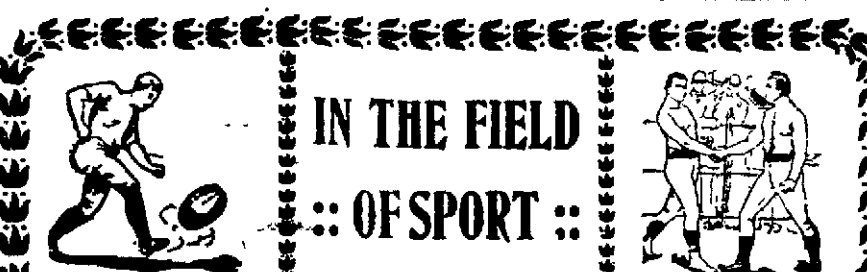

How I came to get separated from the party I do not know unless I was so deep in dreamland that I neither knew nor cared when they went on. I was in the midst of the battle. I ran my eye along the earthwork and saw thousands of rifles leveled over its crest, resembling a cordon of steel; behind each rifle a man, his eyes intent on the advancing Confederates, who were pouring volley after volley as they came. Then I heard a burst of musketry tolling from where I stood far down the works, mingled with the roar of cannon. Guns boomed beside me; guns boomed at a distance. All was a confused roar of firing, shouting, groans, like the passing of a tempest. Suddenly I came to myself. I was alone on the redoubt. The daylight had faded, and the moon was casting serene shafts of light through the trees, giving the scene a peaceful yet melancholy contrast with the battle of which I had been dreaming. It was like passing from the din of destruction to the quiet of death. Startled at finding myself alone, I was about to hurry after the party when I saw a figure sitting on the opposite angle of the redoubt. My first impulse was relief, my second surprise, for at the moment, by the light of the moon shining directly upon him, I recognized in his apparel the uniform of an officer, a lieutenant of '61. And, oh, how beautiful he was, slender and graceful as the Apollo Belvedere, while his face was that of a celestial being!

As I looked he arose and descended the breastwork on the inner side directly in rear of one of the ruts. There he stood looking out at—what? Was it the pines standing motionless in the moonlight and silent save for the wind which passed through them with a faint rustle? Was it an army of the dead? Then he seemed to be pointing a gun, stepping aside when satisfied and pulling an invisible cord. Suddenly he shivered, placed his hand to his breast and, staggering back, sat down on the ground. He looked up at the moon, and I saw that his face was a ghastly white.

Who or what he was, flesh or spirit, he was real to me. Rising, I hurried down and knelt before him. He looked into my eyes with the same beautiful expression, but he did not speak, nor did I. I dared not lest I profane the silence. He put out his arms and drew me to him, while the love he looked thrilled me with a holy immortality. I wished only to kneel there forever in the moonlight under the requiem sighing pines with my young soldier.

Withdrawing one hand, he placed it on his breast, then tore open his coat. Oh, the sight! Will it never leave me? Will it never grow less a horror? From a wound in his breast rushed a torrent of blood. Suddenly I awoke as from a deep sleep. I was in a room on a bed. On the wall was a portrait of General Lee, another of Jefferson Davis. Beside me were flowers—their perfume I can smell to this day—and in another moment the face of a woman clad in the uniform of a trained nurse bent over me. I had not been missed till the party had ridden half the distance to Richmond. Then, driving back, they buried over the battlefield and found me lying in the redoubt. I was taken to Richmond, where a lady of that hospitable city received me into her home.

The memory of that meeting on the battlefield has remained infinitely painful, infinitely sweet. At times I have been obliged to occupy every moment of my waking hours in an endeavor to forget it; at times I hear again the dirge of the pines, see the moonlight struggling through them, feel the encircling arms of my soldier lover, and I have a foretaste of the ecstasy of heavenly rest. F. A. MITCHEL.

A PRINCELY FEE

John A. Drake, owner of the Derby winner, Wyeth, and the first member of the Washington Park club to secure the coveted prize said after the race. "The glory of winning the race belongs to Wishard. I do not even care for the large purse. I am after the race. I gave $10,000 out of the purse to my trainer, Enoch Wishard, to whose ability, primarily, the winning of the race by Wyeth is due. He took my cripples in England and beat the best horses on the English turf. The man who made Lester and Johnnie Reiff and who trained Royal Flush can have the Derby purse. I have divided that $20,000 between Wishard, Lyne, the jockey and the expenses."

Charles Gates, son of John W. Gates, was the only Drake follower to win heavily. He beat the ring out of $13,000 at 12 to 1. Drake did not think that Wyeth could win. Neither did John W. Gates.

CORNELL MAY GO TO HENLEY.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 24.—The Cornell crew may go to Henley next year. Nothing definite has been decided in the matter. It is said that the project meets with Coach Courtney's approval. Courtney's statement that this is the best crew he ever trained has given rise to hopes that a victory across the ocean may now be within Cornell's grasp. Every man but one, Captain Petty, will return to college next year better even than now through another year of experience. To be sure the Henley race is only a mile and five-eighths, while Courtney's men are trained for four miles. Still a great many of his adherents believe that he can train the crew to go very fast for the shorter distance. All of the crews left Sunday for their homes. Before they went away, Penn elected Will Gardner captain. Columbia elected Robert B. Bartholomew, and Wisconsin elected R. G. Stevenson for similar positions. Georgetown elected Joseph Lynch captain. Cornell and Syracuse left without choosing captains.

READY TO DIE

"I have seen the Derby and now I am ready to die," were the parting words of Sam Bryant, the venerable Kentucky horseman, as he was lifted aboard a train for his home in Louisville, after the American Derby Saturday afternoon in Chicago. The old gentleman had been conveyed to the track on a stretcher. He lay most of the day on a couch in the stables of President West, and when the bugle call came for the Derby he had himself carried out to the track, where he was held up to view his final race. When the last horse had crossed the line he was carried back again to the couch, where he rested until it was time to leave for the train.

Mr. Bryant now weighs 70 pounds. His face is almost that of a mummy and everything about the veteran is up gone except the twinkle of the eye and the love of a good horse.

For four months Sam Bryant has been dying. A month ago his physicians gave him four days to live, but he declared he wanted to see just one more good horse race and then he was "ready to go."

Bryant has owned some of the best horses in the history of the American turf, including Proctor Knott and "Uncle Bob," who won a Derby, and for more than half a century he has been ready to back his judgment with every dollar he had.

WHIST TOURNAMENT.

One of the greatest gatherings of expert card players, that ever met in this country, began a session Monday at Manhattan Beach at the opening of the American Whist League's annual tournament.

Between 300 and 400 players are expected to compete over the tables for the handsome prizes offered for the competition. Women players are expected to be particularly in evidence during the play, among them being Kate Wheeler, the only woman ever made an honorary member of the American Whist League.

CORONATION CONTESTS.

In the coronation contests, which began Monday night before the National Sporting Club of London, Ben Jordan of England, knocked out Kid McFadden of San Francisco in the fifteenth round. Joe Walcott got the decision, on points, over Tommy West, the contest going the limit, 15 rounds.

SPORTING NOTES

John T. Brush late Monday night, announced the suspension of Conroy of Pittsburg and Tinker of Chicago, pending an investigation of their mix-up in the game Monday afternoon.

Cincinnati beat Muncie, Ind., Monday in an exhibition game 11 to 6, but the victory was costly as Harry Steinfelt was sent to the hospital by being hit on the finger by a farrow ball.

Terry McGovern was injured by a collision while playing base ball a few days ago, and it is feared his collar-bone is broken. In case he cannot meet Young Corbett, Benny Younger will go against the champion.

Rev. R. R. Eldred for three years center rush on the Bible College football team, and one of the greatest players in Kentucky, left Monday afternoon as a missionary to Bolenge, Congo Free State, Africa.

Father Callahan, rector of one of the largest congregations in Knoxville, Tenn., pitched a game of baseball Monday afternoon at a summer resort near there, and won his game.

Fifty-four out of the 203 games played thus far this season in the National League have been lost or won by one run. Pittsburg has won 8, lost 5; Brooklyn won 10, lost 5; Chicago won 8, lost 6; St. Louis won 9, lost 7; Boston won 5, lost 5; Philadelphia won 5, lost 10; Cincinnati won 2, lost 8.

Only 3,000 conscripts have joined their regiments out of the 25,000 called up in Finland for service.

BLACK AND WHITE EFFECTS

Unlined Gowns Seem to Be the Fad This Season.

The woman who wishes to be economical will confine herself to black and white this season. She will also by so doing be in the height of style.

Black and white foulards are made shirt waist style and are neat and pretty for street wear. One of the smartest ways in which such a foulard can be made up is to lay the waist in tiny box plaits stitched flat and to treat the skirt in the same way, allowing the fullness to flare out below the knees. Of course these foulard shirt waist gowns are made unlined.

There seems to be a rage for unlined gowns this season, and they are made so even in expensive materials. Gowns are not so much boned as formerly, and, except in the case of stout women, the absence of bones improves the figure.

A navy blue etamine suit is here shown. The jacket is made blouse fashion, with open fronts, lined with lace. The skirt has two graduated ruffles, which are the fad. The trimming of the suit consists in bands of stitched satin.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

DRESS FADS AND FANCIES.

Pongee Shades—The Double Green and Blue Veil.

A green veil draped over a blue one is a millinery fad just now. The veils are not worn over the face, but draped around the bun of the hat with long falling ends behind. Both the green and the blue are of the most vivid shades imaginable.

In Paris the rage for greens and blues has been superseded by one for red, particularly for that of a geranium shade. Red lion de soie is very smart.

EVENING WRAP.

especially when trimmed with coarse lace and touches of oriental embroidery.

Some of the smartest coats seen recently at the races were of white embroidered in black or of a biscuit shade treated the same way.

Many coats for evening wear have large white and gold embroidered collar.

A handsome evening wrap of black bouclé silk is here shown. The lining is white satin, and the trimming consists of accordion plaited ruffles of black chiffon. The large sleeves are made entirely of this accordion plaited chiffon. A facing of white lace appears down the front and at the bottom of the sleeves.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

"Frightened Off." So Ethel delivered her essay at the graduation exercises for over half an hour. Jack, who was in the audience, must have felt proud of her.

"Not at all." He shuddered at the possibility of being married to such a taller and immediately broke off the engagement.—Baltimore Herald.

WEDDING

OF MISS LEWIS AND HARRY W. DEMING AT GRANVILLE.

CEREMONY TOOK PLACE TUESDAY MORNING AT 10.

BUXTON HOUSE WILL NOT CLOSE

President Hunt and Family Go To Toledo to Remain During July—Granville Personals.

Granville, O., June 24—One of the prettiest home weddings that has taken place in Granville for a long time was that of the marriage of Mr. Henry White Deming of Barberton, O., and Miss Frances Belle Lewis, only daughter of ex-Mayor J. L. Lewis and Mary L. Lewis this morning. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents on Granger street, and was performed by Rev. James Deming, of Barberton, at 10 o'clock, in the presence of about sixty of the friends of the contracting parties.

The rooms were most beautifully decorated with evergreen and flowers and presented a very charming appearance. After the mystic words had been pronounced that made the happy couple man and wife, and congratulations had been showered on them a sumptuous wedding dinner was served.

The groom is a son of Edward J. Deming, deceased, formerly of this place, who at one time resided in Newark. He is a young man of sterling character and at present is holding the position of superintendent of the Diamond Brick Works of Barberton.

The bride is a young lady possessed of many accomplishments, and is well and favorably known both in Granville and Newark. She will make her husband an excellent helpmeet through life.

The happy couple left on the afternoon train for Barberton, where the groom has a handsome home in readiness for the bride, and where they will make their future home. They carried with them the best wishes of all their friends for a life brimming over with happiness and prosperity.

that owing to the death of the late Major Buxton, the Buxton House is to be closed. This is not true, however, as Mr. Fred Buxton and his sister, Mrs. Minnie Kerr, will carry on the business, and the old Buxton House will still be one of the features of the college town.

NEW TELEPHONE

CENTRAL ENERGY SYSTEM IS TO BE INSTALLED.

Independent Company Now Has Telephone Engineer Here to Prepare Plans for New System.

Having for several months given the subject of reconstruction careful consideration, the directors of the Newark Independent Telephone company have decided to install as soon as possible a complete, up-to-date, Central Energy system with full metallic lines and multiple switchboard.

Today the company has Mr. Crumb, an expert telephone engineer here from Chicago. Mr. Crumb will remain in the city several days while preparing plans and specifications for the new system. Contracts will be let as soon as possible and the work of construction pushed with all possible speed.

The Newark Independent Telephone company started in 1896, equipping its plant for 200 telephones. It was the first independent telephone exchange in the country. The company soon began to extend its lines to surrounding towns so today it has 200 miles of toll lines and connections over the state with the United States Telephone company. Two years ago a new switchboard was installed to accommodate the increased number of subscribers and now another and larger "board" is required.

The company has decided to put in this time the best system in the market—to make every line "metallic" and to introduce the new system of Central Energy which will be a novelty and a convenience to the subscriber. With a Central Energy system, the subscriber has in signaling the central office only to remove the receiver from the phone. He has no bell to ring and there is no "drop" to fall in the Central office. As the receiver is removed, a light appears on the switchboard at the central office indicating that "central" is wanted. With a "multiple" board, each operator has every subscriber's number directly in front of her and can give a much quicker service than with the present transfer system.

By making the lines "metallic" the annoying cross talk will be wholly eliminated.

The installation of this new system in Newark will mean a revolution in the telephone business in this city. The Bell company is now installing a new multiple switchboard and metallic service but the generator system will be retained. The completion of this exchange and the installation of the independent company's new plant will give Newark the most up-to-date telephone system in the state.

With the new system, the Independent company proposes to establish a "four party line" system for the benefit of those who do not want an independent line. The rates will remain the same $2 a month for a business house 'phone, $1.50 for a residence telephone or $1 for a party line 'phone.

BUTCHERS WILL FIGHT THE TRUST

New York, June 24—Retail Butchers' Protective association announced last night that a company had been formed to fight the so-called beef trust. The company has a capital stock of $1,000,000 two-thirds of which has already been subscribed, according to President Edward F. O'Neill of the association. The officers of the association professed a reluctance to giving out information on the ground that the publicity might result in defeating their plans.

It is said however that arrangements have been made with drovers and ranchmen in the West to supply 2000 head of cattle a week, the shipments to begin in about a month. The present demand in this city is between 10,000 and 15,000 head. The new company has been named "The Retail Butchers' Abattoir," and it is said has already been promised the active support of the 45,000 retail butchers in Greater New York.
